At '1695* this new model is the best value ever offered by Volkswagen

The new Volkswagen Custom Model is here. It looks just the same as the others, but you'll realize how much it's changed as soon as you put your foot on the accelerator.

There's two more powerful engines to get you all this more, faster. And get you past 100 miles more safely. That's no more gas than the original.

You can slip into first gear on the new five, because all four are synchronized. (You'll appreciate this in traffic.)

There are a number of other improvements that may not be so readily apparent. Your dealer will enjoy pointing them out. The greatly enlarged luggage space (fourteen cubic feet) is a bonus.

But in case you're wondering how we can improve the model and still sell it for such a low price let us reassure you. This is a complete day, heater, defroster, hood lift, pick, wind, shield wiper, 2 posited sun, vinyl, directional signals, bumper over-riders, 10" wheels and chrome trim.

When you've driven the new Custom Model, you won't want to spend money on any other car. You'll want to drive it in a Volkswagen.

This spring treat yourself to the best value ever offered by Volkswagen. See the new Custom Model at your dealer's show.

Remember that the five engine was used and the new engine is available on the Custom Model. The new Custom Model is available on the Custom Model.

LEGION BRANCHES RESEIZE TROOPING

Over 400 at district meet; branded most successful ever

Over 400 persons from over 50 centres in Ontario converged on Lindsay over the weekend for the District "F" Canadian Legion annual meeting and service of remembrance. Along with officials and delegates, there were members and wives. District activities in an area from Scarborough to Deseronto and north to Haliburton, and include 37 Legion branches, nearly all of which were represented at the convention.

Highlight of the weekend was the election of a new district commander, deputy district commander and district sports officer. Elected after three hours battle for the office was Al Burgess of Pickering, a member of Legion Branch 541, Dunbarton, and present commander of Zone F. He replaced P. R. "Duke" Hills of Port Hope.

Commenting on his new role, Mr. Burgess said, "I am happy for the confidence shown in me—and I will do my best."

"Chairs Rally To Success"

It was the best during the year of my office."

Elected as Deputy Commander was Teddy Backe of Peterborough and as Sports Officer, Bill Bates of Peterborough. Bill Bates was also elected as District Sports Officer.

Comments around the Legion in Lindsay as the event drew to a close were that this year's convention was one of the best organized and most successful in the history of the Legion. Another highlight of the day was the parade to the cenotaph to honour fallen comrades. The parade left the Academy Theatre and marched down to the cenotaph with the Kivanas Cavaliers supplying the music. Parade master was District Sergeant-at-Arms Cedric Smith.

Guest speaker for the convention dinner was Regional Vice-President A. H. L. MacLennan of the Hill of Lindsays.

Among the resolutions passed was one in favour of having a veterans' affairs officer stationed in the Lindsay-Peterborough district.

Trout caught down this year

Early reports from Department of Lands and Forests officials on trout fishermen's luck in this area over the weekend and do not compare too favourably with last year at this time.

In the Bobcaygeon and Silver Lake district, officials say the catch was poor compared to last year. The same applies for farther north, in the Haliburton area. Along the lakeshore, District Biologist with the department, K. Trivasa says the fishing catch was fair.

Mr. Trivasa also added that he kept angler's luck in the more northerly lakes, and even to a certain extent in the Bobcaygeon area.

In spite of the poorer catch this year though, Mr. Trivasa says many fishermen were out. Water conditions were good, he says, but apparently not for fishing. However, the fish were not as big, he says. He noted that there were Rainbow Trout up to six pounds, as well as many brook trout.

Progress on the sewer to the city's training school will make it necessary to block Highway 336 for a day or two.

A spokesman for the Clarence County Commission has said that during the next few days, the line will have to be laid under the highway.

The exact location will be done in a few days, but the contractor expects the work to be done in a day, and not likely more than two.

While the detour is in effect, motorists will have to use either Coburne Street or the highway junction just beyond the site of the new school.

"Mrs. 1897 and Mrs. 1961"

title of skit presented by Lorneville-Argyle WI

Woodville (PNS) — The May meeting of Woodville Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Cecil Smith with 24 ladies present and Miss Joyce Westlake in the chair.

The meeting opened. The roll was called and answered by "a cure for the blues".

The attendance prize was drawn for and was won by Mrs. C. Flagg. Minutes were read and approved and treasurer's report given. After some discussion it was moved, seconded and carried that a committee consisting of Mrs. S. Murray, Mrs. M. P. Austin and Mrs. George Benson, look into the purchasing of some matching cups and saucers of finer quality to replace the ones we now have in our cupboards at the hall. It was also agreed that some other necessities be purchased for the kitchen.

On motion of Mrs. Davies and Mrs. Austin it was agreed to send $25.00 towards the building of a museum in Victoria County. Mrs. F. Davy reported for the Remembrance Committee as to cards sent during the past month.

The West Victoria District Annual is to be held in Box 10. The voting delegates appointed from Woodville W.I. are Mrs. G. Benson (District Director), Mrs. Percy Hill, Miss Joyce Westlake and Mrs. A. Canning. Alternates Mrs. W. Bayne, Mrs. C. Veale, Mrs. R. MacLeod and Mrs. C. Smith.

Mrs. Westlake then gave a very fine report on Citizenship and Education in the place of a former member, Mrs. C. J. Beckley, who had been convener, but who moved away during the year. As two members, Mrs. Alice Lapp and Mrs. Vernon Fisher are leaving this month, for a holiday in the British Isles, it was agreed that Maple Leaf pins be purchased and presented to them before they leave. Homes were offered and conveners for programmes arranged for 1961-62. It was also agreed that gifts be given to the County Home in November as usual and there will be the usual exchange of Christmas gifts among members in December.

Mrs. L. N. McInnis, Convener, er, then took charge of the programme. The motto being: "Here's a Xmas, just your fit."

"Laugh a Bit!" Mrs. McInnis read several jokes. Mrs. Wm. Bayne gave a very interesting reading entitled, "What is a Girl?"

Mrs. MacEachern and Mrs. Rae Fynt of Lorneville-Argyle Women's Institute then presented a skit entitled "Mrs. 1897 and Mrs. 1961—Dressed in appropriate costumes — Mrs. 1897 complete with bonnet, caps, apron, long sleeved high necked blouse and long full skirt over countless petticoats and Mrs. 1961 very dainty in a sun dress fashionably short with nylon and spike heels, presented the contrast of the times. Needless to say Mrs. 1897 was very concerned that Mrs. 1961 put on more clothing before anyone saw her. Their conversation centered around modern kitchens as compared to those Mrs. 1897 used. Some old-fashioned recipes were also given in comparison to those produced from refrigerators and deep freezers. This was very well presented and much enjoyed by everyone. Mrs. Cecil Smith played a medley of songs on the electric organ, consisting of "Indian Love Call," "Halls of Ivy" and "Labretum." This was much appreciated.

Mrs. Minnie Hill read — "The Confessions of Dress Shop Salesladies", which provided much amusement. Mrs. McInnis thanked all who had helped with the programme and especially those who presented the skit. Mrs. Westlake thanked Mrs. Smith for her home and announced the June meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Percy Hill.

NEGOTIATIONS WILL OPEN MAY 20TH

The long-awaited peace negotiations between France and the Algerian rebels will open May 20th at the French resort town of Evian on Lake Geneva. Both the French government and the Algerian rebels announced the talks in communique issued in Paris and Tunis. The talks originally had been set for April seventh but were postponed because the rebels insisted on being the only negotiators for Algerian Muslims. Today's announcement did not mention whether the controversy has been settled.

THREE-DAY CONFERENCE ENDS

The three-day conference of NATO foreign ministers has ended. Oslo, Norway, where the Atlantic allies pledged to safeguard the freedom of Berlin. The 15 NATO nations announced their determination to block the communist drive for greater expansion but at the same time offered to negotiate "just and equitable solutions of outstanding political problems" with the Soviet Bloc.

PROTESTS TO COMMISSION

Informed sources say the government of Laos has protested to the International Commission on the spot. The sources say the government complained that rebel forces attacked government guerrillas after the cease-fire was proclaimed last Wednesday. The commission said it received an invitation to go to the rebel stronghold and presumably the protest will be taken up there.

ARRIVE FOR TALKS

In Geneva, representatives to the 14-nation Laos peace conference are arriving for the talks, which are scheduled to begin Friday. But there is no certainty there will be a conference since the U.S. says it will not take part until a cease-fire in Laos is verified. However, the British Foreign office has expressed optimism the conference will begin as planned.

MORE ANTI-SEMITIC THAN HITLER

Accused mass murderer Adolf Eichmann was charged today with being a more rabid anti-semitic than Adolf Hitler. Evidence was produced showing Eichmann allegedly urged the continuation of the execution of Jews even after Hitler had ordered to stop it. The document claimed Eichmann felt Hitler was being too soft toward the Jews in Holland.

WRECKAGE SIGHTED

15-YEAR OLD YOUTH TO DIE

A 15-year old undernourished youth has been sentenced to death for the slaying of a Montreal newspaper operator during the attempted robbery. Justice Wilfrid Laurier yesterday sentenced Gaston Bouchard to hang on August 18th after telling him "you have created your own misfortune. . . you must serve as an example to those who do not hesitate to use violence to carry out their criminal purposes." Bouchard admitted he slugged Marcus Hillebrand, with a monkey-wrench in February.

NEW ROLE

Sources say External Affairs Minister Howard Green may have opened a new role for Canada — that of critic of Washington foreign policy. Experts say that Green's warning may mean that Canada intends to act as a frank commentator on U.S. actions. Apparently no one else in the western camp wants to take on the job.

QUIETER SESSION

Commons speaker Lord Mchener is hoping to have a quieter session today after last night's Commons debates — which ended with one of the noisiest demonstrations in its attempt to have Bank of Canada governor James Coyne brought before parliament for questioning. Acting House Leader George Nowlan — because of what he described as "a disgraceful exhibition" — refused to give the order of business for today.

Blood Indians Dance to Natoosi

Sun Dance—homage to Apiatoli—the creator, to Sapaitapia—source of life, to Natoooi—the sun. In the deep summer of each year, the Blood Indians of Alberta hold their ritual dance. With rhythmic stomp and whirl, shuffle and leap, chant and drum beat, a culture comes to life, evoking a far-off time and space when vast herds roamed vast distances and life Indians astride arrow-swift horses brushed aside the wind and lived perhaps the freest life man has ever known.

Below, the camp on the reserve near Calgary. The bands of the Blackfoot Confederacy once met in camp each summer to hunt buffalo for the year. Today, the Bloods are farmers and ranchers; their young braves win their spurs at rodeos.

The wail and chant of ancient songs rises and falls on the stillness of the summer night. The young Bloods sleep, lulled by an echo from the storied past.

OPINION: DETAILS OF FAST BEGINS 13th YEAR

Says future holds promise better things

Only limited by own viewpoint and capacities

The premier recalled that it was early in his premiership that he launched big ships—tankers—to transport western oil from the head of the lakes to Ontario ports. "They have all been abandoned in that short time with the advent some three years ago of the Trans-Canada pipeline," he said, "which was just one illustration of the changes which have taken place in a dozen years."

Winning not so important in duplicate bridge play

GENERAL PRINCIPLES OF TOURNAMENT PLAY

Most people who play duplicate bridge do so in the time pleasantly with the game that they enjoy. They have a time and time and time and play in a duplicate game exactly as they would in a rubber bridge game. They never win. But winning isn't always important as long as they enjoy the game.

The beginning of wisdom in duplicate is to know that it is a very different game from rubber bridge. In rubber bridge, players who can go through all the motions of playing in a duplicate game, but they get above average. Likewise, there are tournament stars who are not players; they play rubber bridge. Many of the elements of skill in bidding and play are the same for both, but there are many important differences.

In rubber bridge every game is worth roughly 500 points. In duplicate, 500 points to win the trophy. This may come in a game that you feel you have broken even in. In duplicate, a non-vulnerable game is worth 100-200 points. This may come in a game that you feel you have broken even in. In duplicate, a non-vulnerable game is worth 100-200 points. ## Ratepayers Assoc. plans fight for revised assessment notice

The Lindsay Ratepayers Association announces it will continue to press its demand for more information on assessment notices. An encounter motion by Doris Adams, who is referred to the town assessor for review was carried.

Mr. Wood introduced a change in assessment notices will be taken until a general meeting, slated for May 20th, at the Victoria County Municipal Council meeting.

Mr. Wood introduced a general meeting would likely involve a lot of heavy business, and a special speaker is also being lined up.

Noticed

having something to do with at least part of his spare time... He was presented with a television set by town employees.

The taxicab business is pretty slow out in Montpelier, Indiana, these days according to a United Press International report from that town. It reads:

"The town's only cabbie is in jail. Sixty-eight-year-old Chester Brenner decided to serve four days in jail rather than pay an eighteen dollar and 75 cent traffic fine."

According to Brenner — "Business was bad anyway."

If those who subscribe to the spring tonic of "sulphur and molasses" would be willing to settle for sulphur and iron, they could probably save themselves a lot of time. Water Commissioner Sgt. Bob Reynolds told the May meeting of the commission the artisan well in Victoria Park contained a fair amount of sulphur and iron.

The white frost which covered roads and foliage in Lindsay early today was a reminder that the old timers may have had something when they refused to shed their long underwear before the 24th of May... Too late they switched the date of the Queen Victoria birthday to the nearest Monday before the actual 24th because the day once served as a signal to do not one, not two, not three, not four, but five things: shed the "longies," take the first swim, set off fireworks, plant the garden, and celebrate the Queen's birthday.

Besides learning that their taxes have gone up in many instances, Lindsay property owners and business tax payers, received a pamphlet from the town this year which tells them where their money is going, who's at the head of the various departments and the names of 1961 councillors. More about this.

Hugh David Logan, a native of Lindsay, is to receive his Bachelor of Laws degree at the convocation May 18, at Dalhousie University, Halifax, N. S. Mr. Logan received his Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Western Ontario.

Spring Co-operators meet at Apsley

A Spring Co-operators meeting was held in the Canadian Legion Hall, Apsley, at 1:30 p.m. this afternoon.

The people most interested in this meeting were woods operators (lumber companies), construction companies and tourist operators.

A welcome was given to those attending by Mr. E. F. Johnson, Timber Superintendent, who also chaired the meeting.

A film "Only a Branch of Tools" was shown and statistics dealing with firefights and fires were given. Review of the 1960 fires for the Goodstream Division was given by William Sargison, Central Forest Ranger, and a review of the current fire season was given by Walter Kirt of the Lindsay District office.

Timber Management Projects were discussed by Earl Kelly, Timber Forester, "Fish and Wildlife Management." Fire was the topic taken by Peter Byrnes, Forest Conservation Officer. An address on "Forest Operations" was given by Bud LaPlante of the Peterborough Lumber Co., and spokesman for the contractor and the town council operators also addressed the meeting.

A general question period followed.

BUY VULCANIZER.

A new piece of equipment has arrived at the Lindsay fire hall, which could save quite a bit of money to fire departments in Victoria County. The machine — A Stenor Dart Vulcanizer — was purchased by the Victoria County Mutual Aid Association for the use of all fire departments in the county but will be kept in Lindsay.

Fire Chief Arnold Watson explained that it would be used to patch hose, firemen's coats and rubber boots among other things.

He said for example that a coat, which costs about $30, when torn would normally have to be replaced, but with the new vulcanizer it can be patched. Hose is also an expensive item which can be salvaged and kept in use when patched by the new machine.

were done last February and March by members of the congregation supervised by Mr. Alvin Coppins, and included painting of the walls, a new vestry at the back of the church, a new floor and carpet as well as new doors.

A reception followed in the United Church basement hall where a delicious luncheon was served by the ladies of St. George's W.A. At this reception the people were able to meet Bishop and Mrs. Hunt and Rev. and Mrs. E. H. Taylor as well as Rev. J. F. Little and his wife. Mr. Little welcomed the Anglicans and their bishop and said that this was a happy augury of the future reunion between the two churches. Bishop Hunt said he would spend part of the following day in his meeting of the United Church members of the committee on the reunion of the two churches of which he was himself an Anglican member.

The rector's warden, Mr. Jack McRabb, entertained with a lengthy but humorous sketch of the origins and history of St. George's Church.

Flare thrown on steps, police check

Police have been called in to investigate the cause of a fire alarm Tuesday night.

A woman called the fire department at 11:05 p.m. to report that the house across the street was on fire. Firemen answered the alarm to 59 Simco Street, the home of Patrick Carlin. They discovered that someone had thrown a flare on to the front steps, but that by the time they arrived, the steps had been removed from the house.

Police Chief Hunter said this morning that they are investigating the matter, and that a prankster is suspected.

Report motel plans extension

Sharon Temple Museum

Three hundred and sixty-five days did it take the Davitts to make this wonderful ark, choosing the beautiful inland walnut of which it is made with the utmost care, and putting it together with exquisite workmanship by hand, so that like Solomon's Temple "There was neither hammer nor axe nor tool of iron heard in the house while it was in building."

On square stands at each of the corners there rest the lamps of pure gold, and inside on the cushion there is a Bible, but both lamps and Bible disappeared long ago.

A system of curves is carried out everywhere in the main building. The arches above the ark represent the rainbow — for every part of the architecture of the square building is symbolic. The three stores are emblematic of the Trinity, and the square base means "square dealing with all the world."

The doors on east, west, south and north meant that people should come in from every point of the compass on equal footing, the equal number of windows on each side of every door that the light of the gospel should go to all people, and when, on those September nights so long ago, the Children of Peace watched with heart-felt eyes the light of the candles leap up and shine out over roofed hill and plain, they looked forward earnestly, devoutly to the time when the light of the Prince of Peace should illumine every dark corner of the broad earth.

The whole building is in a good state of preservation, as is evidenced by the second flooring which is one and three-quarters inches thick, and by the condition of all the woodwork.

All the fastenings of the doors and windows are of wrought iron, welded by hand, and are artistic. Perhaps most wonderful of all is the preservation of the shingles, which after nearly a century are still practically free from decay.

The windows contain 2,952 panes of glass.

The wintry nights of 1818 and 19 were notable ones in Sharon, for then the Davitts' choir was in its fullest tide of musical study. Many evenings during the winter, sleigh loads of young people drove to the meeting house, where the choir met in the room above, and joined in the singing.

These same visitors, young and old, crowded to the feasts following the illumination. In speaking of these events, Mr. Abraham Wilson said:

"For those days and times, the feasts were well-attended. I have known three hundred and sixty-five sit down at one time to the dinner, and then the tables would often be filled the second time."

The tables were spread in the meeting house, and served by white-robed girls, who hurried in with platters of roast lamb and veal, potatoes, bread and butter, cheese and plum cake, pie and tea, the hungry diners partaking, while the choir played outside on the band.

The September and Christmas feasts were a little different from that of June as given above. At these feasts the housewife provided roast fowl, bread and butter, "pound" cake, cheese and raspberry sauce.

The little body never asked for financial assistance outside of the congregations. During the earlier years, it was the custom for a number to go to Toronto and Markham Township to hold Sunday services. David Wilson was the only minister they ever used, and he gave his services free.

Any surplus above that needed to keep the church in repair was always given to the poor. Mr. Wilson once wrote: "Our wants are few and simple" and the lives of the people proved the truth of this assertion.

The little congregation numbered nearly a hundred—grew and thrived, living true upright lives in the midst of the community, giving help to the poorer ones about.

On January 16, 1866, at the age of 87 years, 7 months and 12 days, David Wilson passed away. He had proved to be a leader who could not refuse and encourage the people that, even in the wilderness, schools were organized, music given, the most pertinent place, and remarkable structures built.

He was laid to rest beside his wife in the cemetery, a mile south of Sharon.

People who live often eat tea-and-toast instead of a carefully balanced meal. If it is a matter of economy, the variety meats, whole grains, cereals, powdered skim milk and green and yellow vegetables will supply nutrients needed both by old and young people, at restorable prices.

THAT SEASON IS UPON US . . .

That season when people take in the lakebait is today mourning the untimely death, through drowning, of a two-year-old child. The misadventure will have the effect of marring the summer's pleasure for the family, for Friday night early fishing has been cancelled.

On Friday morning the pickered, fishing season, a young man decided to drive into the Trent Canal at the Lindsay Street north bridge. Fortunately, he was not swimming and the water was not too deep, but he came to his death and the water speculation among thoughtful people who swimmer to be present.

One place at which he occurred to those who observed the incident was the fact that had the lad got into the canoe, only the only thing that could have been done, apart from diving in, would have been to have a life preserver around his neck. . . . There wasn't a life preserver around the child. Scores of people were fishing there and they had to have come to the lake or river, unless there happened to be a brave and strong swimmer in the crowd.

EVERY ONE IN A WHILE . . .

Every once in a while a report like the one to follow appears in the press but it doesn't usually have much impact on readers. It is usually a report of a "local" incident, which "it can't happen here" sort of reasoning. However, since this incident has a "local" flavor, the development may have the effect of making people more questioning of the news they might attempt to employ similar questionable means of raising money. Here, in the press report and further comments, we have a report of a man who was killed by a car.

Inspector James Erskine, head of the OPP racket squad, told Magistrate R. B. Baxter that the 25 victims were involved although there were 25 charges because the victims sometimes went back to the same victim once or twice.

It took the court clerk half an hour to read the 35 charges.

Summers, the father of three, usually softened his victims with soft stories, said Erskine gave Summers $200 after hearing that Summers' mother required an operation.

A Albert Brown, of Ottawa, loaned Summers $925 for a car on which he was supposed to have been for an hour on the head with a baseball bat. He received a $1,000 fine.

The inspector said:

"Newcastle lawyer Richard Lovelock gave Summers $200 after hearing that Summers' mother required an operation."

Reports and Remarks...

A PASTORAL

from the House of Bishops of the Ecclesiastical Province of Ontario to all Clergy and the Anglican Church of Canada within their jurisdiction

We the assembled Anglican Bishops of the Province of Ontario, desire to express our whole-hearted support of the efforts of the Anglican Church of Canada in the schools of our province. We believe that no nation can hope to survive, unless the spiritual and moral principles of its people are firmly grounded in the Christian religion, preferably along with the other elements of the social curriculum. We commend the legislature of our Province, and especially our Department of Education, for the introduction of the plan and for their steady support of it through seventeen years.

We are anxious to continue our partnership with the other churches of the province towards the improvement of the present text books in the schools. We are also eager to protect the right of minority groups to have their own religious instruction. We wish to thank the Ministers of our own Communion, and of the neighboring Churches, for their service as teachers in the schools. Particularly we appreciate their presentation of Bible Teaching, as held in common by the participating Churches, as basic and essential to our national life. We desire to continue this partnership.

Our thanks are also extended to the Principals of the Public Schools for their thoughtful courtesies, to many of their teachers who have taught the course, and to all the other subjects, and to the Local School Trustees for their impartial application of the 1944 Regulations. At a time when there is much talk of secularism and spiritual drift, we call upon all our Anglican people to support our Legislature and our Educational Authorities in the present effort to preserve and strengthen the Christian foundations of our nation.

PHYSICAL FITNESS AT HOME

President Kennedy of the United States, has expressed a desire to continue his physical fitness program.

In some countries people are more physically fit than others because of their way of life, rather than the amount of exercise they are given by their employers.

Much can be said for a way of life which is productive and at the same time keeps one physically fit, by contrast to exercising for fitness alone, desirable as the latter may be.

We have come a long way towards softness since the days of the American pioneer, who was physically fit by the very nature of his life. As we live in gardening and other exercise that improves our home properties, all the ingredients for keeping fit, if we but take advantage of them. In gardening one can plant and beautify and maintain his property so that its resale value increases, thus making the garden exercise economically productive. This makes the garden exercise a desirable and outdoor exercise, not much better "garden living."

So let's include gardening and other do-it-yourself home improvement in our physical fitness program, rather than trying something like individual calisthenics, which tend to become boring after a few days. Gardening is close to nature and gives one a sense of accomplishment. The medical profession recommends more gardening for both physical and mental health, thus linking the mind and body by producing a more valuable home property to boot.

FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY AND COMPULSORY INSURANCE

The financial responsibility law which has been introduced in the Quebec Legislature has long overdue has been demonstrated by figures presented since Bill 48 received its first reading that fifty per cent of the cars in the province have not been insured.

It is very easy to visualize what the effects of such a situation may be. There are few people who have not been direct sufferers, or who, at least, have relatives or friends that have been victims of the uninsured motorist.

Already the inevitable complaint is being heard that the legislation means compulsory insurance. Nothing, of course, could be further from the facts, as the law does not require anyone to insure, but it does require companies have been pressing over a long period of years for a financial responsibility law in Quebec which would require everyone to insure.

3. Have a rope or ringuoy and a paddle within easy reach on a dock to assist a tired swimmer. Even a flotation ring will help.

4. Have a life jacket for every nonswimmer and extra one for good swimmers. A good life jacket is a sound investment.

5. Teach the Hooper-Neilsen Method respiration to every responsible member of the family, and give an instruction sheet on your boat house as a reminder.

Make These Rules in Your Family:

1. Children should never swim in and out with their parents before going off for a swim.

2. Do not permit swimming at night, unless the water is well lighted and completely familiar to all swimmers.

3. Do not permit any member of the family to water skis without wearing a life jacket. It is a fast sport, and an accident can happen before a boat has chance to get back.

Always Remember:

1. Never leave small children alone on a beach or dock.

2. Keep out of and off the water during an electric storm.

3. If children play with plastic toys, be in the water with them and don't let them get out of your reach.

4. A gust of wind can send them into deep water in no time.

5. If a boat capsizes, hang on!

6. The time for a good swimming is when you are in the water when the children are safely in the cottage having a rest, not playing on the dock.

bring it in line with other provinces in the country they have been, at the same time strongly opposing any compulsory insurance legislation.

Compulsory insurance, where it has been effected in some states of the Union, has been nothing, but a headache to the insurance companies and to the state governments as well; and it has not had the desired effect of protecting the public against the irresponsible automobile driver. On the other hand, financial responsibility legislation, when accomplished by an unsatisfied judgment fund — as the Bill now before the Quebec Legislature — has worked out in an eminently satisfactory manner wherever it has been in force.

Indirectly, of course, the financial responsibility law imposes upon the majority of drivers the necessity of securing adequate insurance, if he or she wishes to avoid trouble. From the point of view of the insurance industry, however, it means that the insurance company is responsible for the loss of the insured, instead of the negligent and irresponsible driver who is a public menace — and there are more of them than would be imagined — will be forced to the front.

It would, of course, be desirable if the financial responsibility legislation were accompanied by more stringent licensing regulations and stricter enforcement of the traffic laws in the motor vehicle industry, but we have been waiting for this over a long period, with not too much luck however.

—The Financial Times.

GOES BACK TO OLD TESTAMENT TIMES

One of the world's first references to artificial respiration is found in the Bible. The story of the man who saved the life of a boy who had stopped breathing, by repeatedly laying his weight on him and removing it. Some of the other methods tried included throwing hot pitch on the chest of a victim, in the belief that it would give an involuntary gasp and start breathing again.

Today's methods are not so drastic and the basic knowledge has helped to save lives. In the last year, 75,000 people took advantage of the free two hour course during St. John Ambulance "Save-Life" Week. Two students last year took the new four-hour course following the course and were able to save the lives of two nearly-drowned persons.

This week has been recognized as St. John Ambulance "Save-Life" Week and classes will be held in centres all over the Province. There are a few better investments than this that will learn to save a life. Get information on where the classes are being held, at the nearest St. John Ambulance office. — St. John Ambulance, (Ont. Council).

"Transit" ducks in river

Two men save lives, lose motor

Burnt River (PNS)—It was a case of "rapid transit" for a couple of Toronto men as they hurriedly moved toward the river. They have been used to in the city.

John Owens and his son-in-law - a Mr. Cox - decided the time had come to take a trip down the river in their outboard craft. Owens owned a string of cottages along what is known as the long back pick, hunched the boat and off they went - faster than they expected. Running at fast speed, the river current picked up the boat and sent it careening toward the rapids. Realizing their plight, the operator attempted to make a U-turn but the current was stronger than the outboard motor and their craft went plowing into the rapids.

Striking a rock, the boat overturned, dumping its occupants into the turbulent water. They managed to make it to shore and later retrieved their boat - minus motor.

It's in the book

When Town Clerk W. R. Alley, whose retirement will become effective this week, dug out an early volume of bylines from the vault, he and Mayor Holton found a lot of things in the book they did not know were there. The heavy-bound volume goes back to byline number 26, dated 1899, but makes a reference to byline number 8. The pages of the book were all written laboriously in a neat, very legible hand. There were many references to the opening of railroads in this area. This was one of the main reasons for going through the book. The page at which Mayor Holton and Mr. Alley are looking, has a picture of an advertising a public vote for byline 468 of 1893, to authorize debt for the proposed Lindsay, Bobcaygeon and Pontypool line at that time. The vote failed, but the railway was endorsed in 1900 as byline 876. The mayor made use of much of the book's contents regarding railroads in his remarks made to the several thousand persons gathered in Victoria Park for the town locomotive excursion.

Early Avon Popular

The new Avon potato — an early variety — is gaining favor in many sections of Canada and the United States.

Released in 1958, it was developed in the National Potato Breeding Program primarily because of the high quality which can be made from it.

It is a variety of the early maturing type, it is well suited to the growing time, it is well suited to the growing time, it is well suited to the growing time.

Seed of Avon is in short supply this spring. Growers with Foundation stock are advised to plant it for seed production like this as the whole crop was worthy of mention. However, one scene which rocked the house with laughter was "Whistlers".

Wonderful show!

Fenelon Rotary's 'S.S. Enjoyable' most enjoyable, audience agrees

"Wonderful Show!" "Splendid entertainment!" "Why don't they do this more often?" —were some of the comments heard after the show, aptly named "S.S. Enjoyable", an annual variety show put on by the Fenelon Falls Rotary Club Wednesday evening at Fenelon High School Auditorium.

It was evident to the audience from the start that much thought and hard work had gone into giving them the best show yet.

A clever script, portraying the voyage of S.S. Enjoyable around the world gave an international flavour to the show as well as easy continuity from one scene to another.

It would be difficult to highlight individual or certain numbers in a talented programme like this as the whole cast were worthy of mention.

The "Jerry Jokers" or was it "Bell-I!"

This novelty number was done by three portly Rotarians who could only be recognized

NOTICED... along the way

WARREN BROWN, founder of the Lindsay Safe Barn, who wanted to be the top of the heap in his community. . . . He wanted the best gun, best car, best this and best that. One day he decided to take up hunting and got the shock of his life when he decided to buy a couple of the best guns money could purchase, the best compass on the market, and since it was the duck hunting season, the best shotgun pump. . . . He had been out only minutes when his friend bagged a duck. . . . and it too, fell in the water some distance above the duck. . . . and the friend set the retriever and got the shock of his life when it ran across the water and ran back with the bird. . . . Being separated some distance from the dog's owner, he decided to say nothing. . . . The incident last night, he said, was the last time he had a dog with him. . . . The man who had sold the dog met up with his new owner and asked him how he liked it. . . . "Well, he's a nice guy, good dog but it can't swim a stroke."

Since this may be the day for stories, here's one of Mike Spence's favorites: This led to taking up hunting and he was making the rounds buying up a lot of guns. . . . Last thing on the list was a compass, and he went into a shop to make the purchase. The clerk asked him what he planned to use it for and the nitwit explained. . . . "Why," said the clerk, "don't you need a compass? You need a duck of cards!" . . . "A duck of cards?" the hunter-to-be repeated with puzzled astonishment. "Yes," replied the clerk, "it's just what you need. Just the duck, out the duck and start to play solitaire. . . . it won't be two minutes before someone looks over your shoulder and starts telling you how to play - all you have to do then is ask for directions."

It looks as though things might as well keep on the lighter side today, especially since no serious thoughts are to coming this way. . . . United Press International said this one which may draw a smile from the fingers of church bells, and possibly the odd churchgoer. . . . The captain of a team that finished second in a church-bell-ringing contest in Bristleford, England, has nothing but praise for one of his members.

The captain said: "We couldn't have finished second if Charlie had stopped to pull their pants down." . . . Stevens had kept right on telling the bell despite the fact his trousers had fallen.

According to a local press story, Lindsay had some mighty warm visitors recently. . . . "The Russians steam into town." . . . Well, people do get pretty "hot" up there nowadays, don't they.

Then there was the time this paper pulled a price boner. . . . It happened when the Russians laid claim to "venting" plastic lens" for eye-glasses. . . . The heading or caption was written in long hand and read: "Russians invent plastic lens." But that wasn't the way it came out. . . . "Wonder how they are for laying?" quipped veteran comic columnist, as people who always managed to put the icing on the cake, so to speak.

Rheumatism may well be world's oldest pain

London, May 12—(UPI) — pain and suffering almost from the very beginning of vertebrate (backboned) life.

Long before man made his appearance on this planet, the oldest pain of all time. Scientists probing the origin of the disease—they call themselves palaeopathologists—have ered evidence that dinosaurs suffered rheumatic attacks of years ago. They have also tagged tuberculosis as a chief contender for a dubious honor of being the major malady ever to beset mankind.

The dinosaurs left behind in their bones the evidence that they are as big as they were—and one was 60 and 70 feet long—they were not immune from rheumatic disorders of the type that still wracks civilized

And time has erased the evidence of other diseases the dinosaurs may have suffered—such as bacterial infections.

Prof. D.R. Brothwell of Cambridge University reported in an article in the "New Scientist" that tuberculosis has been definitely identified in Egyptian mummies and in the skeleton of a Stone Age man in Germany.

This, he said, seemed to suggest that the disease was certainly one of the first major

—Continued

Two reports published today in London on the history of leprosy underline the facts that the disease has spread along with the development of civilization, not of man himself. He speculated that it might have been spread along with the development of civilization.

Dominion Freightways plan to erect a warehouse on property adjacent to Lindsay's 1st Ward water tower. The company, which was founded in 1981, would give water commission the right to re-purchase the land at the price paid by Dominion.

Water contamination has forced to sign a bill of sale that would turn over to the city the 10-acre site, which would then be sold to a company that would build a 300-ft-deep with a frontage of 125 ft on Colburne Street. The transfer will be the closed effort of St. James Street.

No purchase price was mentioned in the bill of sale, which includes a clause which stipulates that failure to construct the reservoir prior to October 1990 will result in the city's taking over the site.

Results of laboratory tests to find out what was in a sample have told "The Star" that little Ruth Ann Arundel could be known in a few days.

May has been a month of "weather"... a fickle, changeable weather with everything from snow and rain to balmy 80-degree temperatures. The snow above was recorded within a single hour on a day in May when nature had a field day. ## Boat operators becoming more safety-conscious

OPP patrol discovers

Boat operators are becoming more water safety conscious. Corporal Ken Dennis, Lindsay OPP detachment, made this disclosure when he reported that during the weekend the OPP patrol boat checked a large number of fishermen and found that the boats were much better equipped safety-wise this year. "It was still necessary to order three boats off the water for not having sufficient life preservers aboard," he said.

The corporal reminded boat operators in a warning, that the weekend the OPP patrol boat checked a large number of fishermen and found that the boats were much better equipped safety-wise this year.

Three fire house fire at midnight

Mount Pleasant — A midnight fire sent a mother and her two small children fleeing to safety through a window Friday. They made their escape when fire struck their home and destroyed the house before firemen could reach the scene. Mount Pleasant is southeast of Omenes and the Omenes fire brigade was summoned.

Mrs. David Muller, son David, 2½, and a seven-month-old daughter were taken in by neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Knapp. Mr. Muller, a farmer, was attending a sale at Orono when the fire broke out.

Only some clothing hanging on a clothesline was saved. The house, the old Thomas Graham home — was completely gutted. The Mullers lived in the brick home less than a year.

The direction of winds prevented the fire from spreading to the property from catching fire.

The property is owned by Emily Cavan Township boundary about a mile north of Mount Pleasant.

Neighbors, including Mrs. Knapp, are seeking food, clothing and accommodation for the family.

Ontario's Provincial Research Institute, established in 1958 by Ontario's Department of Health, takes the advancement of the medical sciences as its primary purpose. For Ontario's medical progress.

Demand Discusses Health in Ontario

The Psychiatric Research Institute For Children - London

Matthew B. Dymond, MD, CM,
Ontario Minister of Health.
The facility for retarded children, the first of its kind in Canada, has been established by the Mental Health Branch of the Ontario Department of Health, as part of its "New Look" program. The Institute was established primarily to meet the needs of the mentally retarded living in the community, and to solve the problems of mental retardation from both the clinical and research aspects.
The Institute began functioning as an Out-patient service in February, 1963, in the Pavilion Building of the Brock Municipal Hospital, the Southern portion of the building was purchased by the Provincial Government, this first building to be utilized in providing facilities for retarded children in the community.
During the coming Summer, the Ontario building, the second building in the province, will be ready for occupancy, and will house 100 patients, and the permanent quarters for administration and the Ontario patients. With these two buildings in full operation, there will be adequate diagnostic facilities.
Inpatient Outpatient—Not institutional.

Timely Tips

Square egg-hatching baskets are something you might think about. The OAC Pottery Department uses them and John Walker believes they have quite a few advantages. The filler fillets that are in the basket prevent many cracks and allow the eggs to cook rapidly. Plastic fillets are available in the egg-hatching baskets and can be washed right in the basket and no double handling will be necessary. Many disadvantages, clumsy to handle until you get used to them and the baskets won't fit round egg washers.

Don't wait too long to kill the dandelions in your lawn. C.B. Kelly, OAC bolant, says there are extra benefits if you can spray with 2, 4-D during the early warm spells by mid-May. Some of the weeds that are hard to kill with 2, 4-D are susceptible in early spring (weeds such as black medick, knotweed, chickweed, and others). Also there is a chance of hurting ornamentals if you spray before the weeds are susceptible. If you get your growth before the weeds are transplanted. If you start early you will be able to get two applications of 2, 4-D before the weeds get established. Killing the weeds early gives a chance to fill in the spaces while good conditions are good.

Tractors are now being used to the limit to get the spring seeding done on time. If you have a harrow, don't neglect it, says Hal Wright, agricultural specialist with the Ontario Department of Agriculture. He stresses: don't refuse a running tractor, don't let it sit idle, don't let it sit idle on a tractor, call a neighbour or use your second tractor to help you out of the spring.

Crop rotation will help control storage roots of turnips.

Noticed along the way

That "Gas" can no longer be used as the short form of the word "gasoline" without causing a peck of trouble since the advent of natural gas. It was used in a caption over a story in this paper on Saturday following a gasoline fire which threatened to destroy a late model Oldsmobile and a welding shop - Result: the service man for Consumers' Committee, Lindsay, received a lot of calls from people who thought natural gas had been involved. Conclusion: "Gas" as an abbreviation of the word "gasoline" will have to go by the board.

John Holmes, 52 Adelaide St. S., Lindsay, is home after a stint at Toronto's Sunnybrook Hospital. He says he's feeling fit enough to pretend any overtures to have Canada's national flag changed - "I think it's a Communist move," he declared. "They want to do away with this country's loyalty to the Crown."

People should think twice before they believe everything they read in the out-of-town press. Take this caption over a news story which appeared in last edition of the press: "Daily Post Pulls Switch." Anyone might gain the impression from that, that "The Post" had been walking on the railroad. This, of course, is not true. It has never pulled a switch in its long history, not even when switching the steam-powered excursion train onto the Victoria Ave. north tracks would have been considered an honour and a privilege.

Kiwansians Welcome 2 new members. Two new members were inducted into the Lindsay Kiwanis Club last week. They are Robert McConnell, introduced by Ed. Burt, and Alex McKean, introduced by Ed. Burt. President Gordon Cook welcomed them to the club and allocated them to committees.

This Day

Today is Wednesday, May 24, the 144th day of the year with 221 more to follow in 1961.

On this day is approaching its full phase.

The moon is in history: In 1928, Peter Minuit bought the island of Manhattan from the Indians for the equivalent of 24 dollars.

In 1919 Queen Victoria was born.

In 1844, Samuel L. B. More, in Washington, sent the first telegraph message to his associate in Baltimore. The message: "What hath God wrought!"

In 1929, reduction in postal rates between Canada and France came into effect by the signing of a new postal convention.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY
Russian author Dostoyevsky said: "The true security is to be found in social solidarity rather than in isolated individual effort."

PROTECT ROSE BUSHES
This year, late May, is the time to spray rose bushes. Roses are subject to many fungi and insect pests. Spraying or dusting is necessary to keep the foliage clean, and the plants productive. Although a disease of black spot, a fungus infection, is not apparent until later, thorough spraying during May and June is particularly important to prevent this disease.

Professor J. Taylor, Department of Horticulture, O.A.C., says best results are obtained when a protective film of spray or dust is present on the foliage when it is moist either in dew, this is the cause when black spot infection occurs if the foliage is damp

Many brand-name sprays and dusts for roses are available. These are effective only if applied thoroughly and at intervals of about ten days throughout the summer. Be sure the undersides of the leaves are damaged, because disease spores often cling there.

The specialists at O. A. C. recommend the use of a pressure sprayer. It has sufficient force to ensure that the undersides of the leaves get the full benefit of this treatment.

Ted Wieand may return to New York Yankees on round trip ticket

United Press International the Virginians.

It's a good thing that the Bruce Henry road secretary Virginians to within 2 1/2 of the New York Yankees pre-games of the first-place Co-sentinel pitcher Ted Wieand with a round-trip ticket with the parent club sent him to the Richmond of the International League 10 days ago.

It's an act that could earn Henry the Yankees' annual "award for foresight" and also could save the 27-year-old right-handed the trouble of purchasing a ticket back to New York within the next few days.

The Yankees are screaming for pitching help and they could do worse than recalling Wieand, who Tuesday night turned in his second straight complete-game victory when he hurled the Yankees to a 2-1 win over the Buffalo Bisons. Wieand has allowed only three runs and 10 hits in the two games he was pitched for needed.

Most people do not drink sufficient water for the body's needs. Through perspiration glands, ducts, lungs and kidneys, the body loses about three quarts of water daily and this must be replaced. Many foods supply water but it is also necessary to drink adequate amounts. Individual differences in the amount required, because of temperature, clothing and exercise so the amount of thirst is the dependable factor to the liquid supply.

They will be among the 2,500 people registering for the District A convention of the club which features a mammoth parade on Sunday afternoon. The parade moves off at 2 p.m. and the last float won't leave the marshalling grounds until 3:45 p.m. It will include between 40 and 50 bands along with hundreds of beautiful majorettes.

The five-day convention embraces Ontario and Quebec clubs and among those expected to attend from Lindsay are Deputy district governor elect Guy Bassman, Morris Tamblin,

Conserve for survival, Kiwanians are urged

"Conservation for Survival" ed," she said. "And we also need more damming up of the topic of an address given to the Lindsay Kiwanian Club by Mrs. J. A. Nornabell against spring runoff and erosion of Peterborough, Tuesday night."

Mrs. Nornabell is chairman of the Ontario Region Conservation Authority and a member of the Peterborough Park Board.

Mrs. Nornabell stressed that in a growing economy and ever-increasing population, the need for conserving our water supply is much greater. She noted that much of the water supply is polluted and that many of the water supply is being used through in the right side of the road, dusty finding new uses for water.

"More reforestation is necessary."

other speakers had said, stated that the physical and mental fitness and attitude of the team had been superior to that of their opponents and that the tightest play-off series had been with the team in top physical and mental condition, Minden.

The convenor of the Ontario Rural Hockey Association, Bruce Clayton of Woodville, told the assembly that the ORHA had been formed in 1948 and in those eighteen years, the trophy had been won by a team from the local league. Mr. Clayton also told the team that in the coming year they would have to play in the "B" classification since the ORHA had a rule prohibiting a team from winning the trophy in three consecutive years. He then presented the J. H. Roberts Trophy to the team captain, Don Brooks. Don Brooks in his acceptance thanked the fans for their support throughout the season, effective treatment of all injuries, and especially at the away games. The club treasurer Gordon Macdonald, then presented in honour of the hockey team, for his prompt and individual trophies to the members of the team and the executive. After the banquet, many of the guests went to a dance in honour of the hockey team.

TIME FOR ANOTHER CIRCUS?

It has been a long time since the world of Lindsey have seen a circus and on Monday of this week an advance agent of one of these travelling shows was here looking for a sponsor.

The last circus to visit the town—King Brothers—was one of the better type. You saw and received everything for your money that the circus said you would. It was presented as a talent show in fact the reception for Lindsey because several previous circuses which had visited the town left something to be desired—the presentation of a show as advertised.

It may be an opportune time to have another circus visit Lindsey but the sponsor of such an event would do well to take a good look at the show's advance billing make certain provisions for the protection of the public. A good circus is worth seeing, a poor one not worth having come to town.

Getting a reference on a circus should be a relatively simple matter—contact the towns it has played in during recent times.

AN UNREALISTIC FIGURE

Tourists visiting Canada, and other countries, from the United States may be only allowed to take back $100 worth of duty-free goods. The former figure of $500 was slashed by the U.S. House of Representatives which has sent a bill providing for the cutback to the Senate for approval.

In the light of the current and continuing depreciation of the dollar in the U.S. and Canadian, the revised figure seems entirely unrealistic. One hundred dollars will buy very little merchandise today, in fact someone with a couple of hundred dollars in the States would require the whole duty-free allowance if the new figure gets the Senate's approval. This will undoubtedly have a significant effect on the retailing of U.S. 90 per cent reduction in the duty-free allowance would have been more in keeping with present inflation values. The U.S. House of Representatives has made one of primary concerns to Canada, and especially Ontario, which has come to regard the tourist industry as one of its most important seasonal sources of revenue.

CHANGING NAMES OF STREETS

A suggestion that the names of some streets lying east of the Seaguy River be changed has met with disapproval by at least one member of the Lindsey Planning Board and the grounds for the would lead to confusion.

The streets which would be affected by such a re-naming are those with counterparts west of the river and bear their names—Bain, Glen, and Glen.

As the street names now stand it must be somewhat confusing even to name and mail delivery men who are not entirely familiar with which street numbers are west of the river and those that are east of it.

There is one way this could be overcome without re-naming the streets and that is to simply make all street numbers west of the river "west" numbers and all east, "east" numbers. In other words all houses from the west edge of the river to the west of a given street in the area under consideration or on the east side of the river, that is Russell St. would be west from the river west and east, east thereof. This should minimize existing confusion and encourage further development of the town by re-naming the streets east of the Seaguy. What do you think?

THIS HAS A FAMILIAR RING

A pamphlet entitled "Fluoridation—The Crime of the Century" has reached this desk and there are some passages in it which have a familiar ring. The title suggests, it has to do with injecting sodium fluoride (sometimes referred to as rat poison) in community water supplies. More specifically, however, it makes reference to the way this is achieved—a way which parallels the authority granted municipalities by the Ontario Government which provides that fluoridization of municipal water supplies may be carried out without a vote of the people, unless a certain percentage petition for a vote.

This paragraph from the pamphlet is, we believe, significant:

"The United States Public Health Service brings about how many people are now drinking fluoridated water. If they told the truth, they would state that 95% of the communities that have it, it is slipped over on them without a vote of the people. When it comes to an election it has never carried in a community where there was live, intelligent opposition. In the past year where elections have been held, it has been defeated nine times out of ten."

Equally significant and worthy of careful consideration when fluoridation of a water supply is being entertained, is this excerpt:

"Sodium fluoride builds up in every organ of the body and in the blood. It impairs the function of the spleen, the liver, the kidneys and attacks the enamel of the teeth, causing a disease known as fluorosis, characterized by mottled teeth which reveal the first stages of fluorine poisoning. But what it affects most seriously is the brain. A study made at the University of Wisconsin of the effects of the state which showed that in communities having one or better part per million, the number of idiots born was twice the proportion as in districts having no more than one part per million."

Lindsey or any other community would, in the face of these reports, be wise to demand a vote on any proposed fluoride in Lindsey, and, if necessary, requesting at the same time a reasonable lapse of time between the decision to call a vote and the actual voting date so that the public could weigh the case for and against.

Reports and Reactions...

COLLECTION OF WOODEN CURIOSITIES

A visit to a curious little museum run in their own home by a Mr. and Mrs. Pinto of Northwood, near Lindsay, is enough to make any housewife thank her stars she lives today. At least, that was the reaction of BRC reporter Barbara Hooper when she went there to see this collection of over five thousand everyday objects of the better type. "Imagine opening a Registry bookخانه weighing a ton and nearly as big as a family size 14 had to have a house built specially for it in the garden. The house is equipped as an old-time laundry and some of those curious household things made me feel rather ashamed of all the work that is done for me by washing machine and spin-drier."

The collection has been housed in a bright blue weathered shed which is a good many square metres, shelter that houses a Victorian horse-drawn fire engine, a velocipede—the first bicycles were called—and a knife-grinding machine. A pair of mahogany dial, which probably once hung in the bar of an old coaching inn, have their hands set for ever to show what time the next coach will leave. One is marked 'M' for mail coach, and the other 'P' for passenger. There are copying stencils, flat boards engraved with lettering once used in village schools to teach children to write, which bear such forbidding—and probably true—inscriptions as "Innumerable inconveniences attend the use of."

Among other interesting exhibits, Barbara Hooper saw a wassail bowl that had been used around 1690 at an inn outside Hampton Court Palace, a similar little nest of pill boxes, once the property of Dr. William Palmer, a poisoner executed about a hundred years ago, and a particularly rare antique wooden wheel which was found in a hedge at 80 feet for a few shillings at a sale where it had been offered as a good fuel for bulbs!—BRC London Letter.

HANDS THAT HELP TO HEAL

According to the experts, the people of Ontario will receive nearly $230,000,000 worth of care and treatment in our public hospitals this year. Add to that the direct contributions by various levels of government, industry and private citizens which are needed to finance new hospital construction and the purchase of vital equipment and physical plant—and we have a total hospital bill of 1981 of around $230,000,000.

By any standards, this is a huge sum of money. But before we stagger out for the apocalyptic, let us have a look at what we get for it. In return for an outlay of $45 a year for every man, woman and child in the province, we enjoy the benefits of a community-owned hospital system which, though building the seams in many great right now, provides a standard of patient-care envied throughout the world.

Across Ontario, May 21st was celebrated as National Hospital Day. Approximately, it was also the anniversary of the birth of that legendary hospital figure, Florence Nightingale. It is to the descendants of Florence Nightingale, the 30,000 men and women who work in our hospitals and the many thousand more who give voluntary service, that special tribute was being paid. These are the hands that help to heal—whether they be the hands of a surgeon, a laboratory technician, a laundryman or the chairman of the board. Every one of them plays an indispensable part in providing the high quality of care we in Ontario have come to expect.

WHAT IS THE PURPOSE OF 'TAXATION'?

The true purpose of taxation is to redistribute the wealth.

It is surprising and frightening to discover that the above statement has received wide acceptance and at least tacit approval by many Canadians. This expression of "Robin Hood" economics is probably based on a far-misleading interpretation of the equality of man under our democratic system. Men are not born equal in ability, physical or mental. They are not alike in diligence or in productivity. It penalizes the more able to be the function of the state to attempt to equalize human beings by withdrawing or reducing the incentive of the more able to produce. It is the inevitable taxation of the fruits of his energy, initiative and spirit.

The normal objectives of the tax system are (1) to raise necessary revenue for the state, (2) to offset the expenses of government, (2) to foster production by preserving and developing incentive to produce on the part of both labour and management, and (3) to spread the tax burden in the most equitable manner possible. Under the system of freedom of enterprise the emphasis must be placed on growth and the expansion of the economy. Only by developing greater wealth can we hope for higher living standards for all citizens. Ludwig Lohard, in his book Prosperity Through Competition, said: "I want to stress the importance of trying to raise the standard of living is concerned less with the problems of division than with the problems of production and productivity. It penalizes the more able in dividing but in multiplying the national income. Those who pay attention to the problem of income redistribution are likely to neglect to distribute more from the national economy product."

A taxation system based on the theory of taking from the rich to give to the poor results in frustration and stagnation. It penalizes the enterprising, the efficient, the vigorous and the thrifty without, in the long term, benefiting those who lack these qualities. High rates of taxation which go beyond the need for government's general support and the maintenance of public services reduce labour's incentive for efficient operation and the willingness of investors to provide new risks. The consequences are a diminution in the number of new enterprises and lowered productivity in the enterprises already existing. This results in fewer jobs and a lowered standard of living for all citizens.

To the extent that social welfare benefits are provided by the state, there is an inevitable reduction of wealth, but a careful distinction must be drawn between what is socially desirable as an ultimate aim and what can be achieved without damaging the system that

Leafs starting to look more like pennant winners

United Press International Up to now, the seventh place Toronto Maple Leafs have been the biggest disappointment of the International Hockey League. They're beginning to look more like the pennant winners they were in 1969.

The Maple Leafs, getting excellent pitching in both games, swept a doubleheader from the first-place Columbus Jets, 1-0 and 3-2, yesterday to move within five games of the lead.

Veteran Ron Nery checked the Jets on three hits in the first game, but he was out of the lineup for a decision over Jim Umbricht, who yielded five safeties.

The Leafs employed five pitchers in the nightcap - Ken Johnson, Bob Smith, Pat Scanlon, Earl Senger, and Steve Riddick - and they held Columbus to five hits. Senger was the winner. Earl Senger is the loser.

Roberto Herrera, honored for Columbus with the bases loaded in the second, hit the lead off the Jets' score. The Leafs tied the score at 2-2 in the fifth and then pushed over the winning run in the sixth.

The Richmond - Buffalo game was postponed because of cold weather. Charleston and Jersey City were idle.

HOW TO ENJOY RETIREMENT

For many people the fact of retirement from work has little other very glow that the idea held for them in the middle years. It is not simply a question of being more or poorer health, but of a complete dislocation of their lives. Dr. Alastair Heron, who chaired a conference held in London last year to discuss this problem of the elderly, described it in the BRC General Overseas Service Programme "The Onlooker as essentially modern problem."

Until about a generation ago, Dr. Heron said, only a comparatively small number of professional people retired, but today, with compulsory retirement at age of sixty-five for men and sixty for women becoming normal in Britain, far greater numbers were affected, and those who put off thinking about retirement until it arrived and developed to outside interests in the community, often suffer severely from a sense of the loss of personal significance.

One of the mainstays of much of the constructive work on this problem which is being done by various organizations was given by an organizer from an engineering firm who arranged for the first of a series of seminars for middle-aged people were often shy of attending classes at evening institutes with young people; but many had readily attended when a local Institute for the fifty-five age group. These men and women learned an occupation for their retirement, that would save them money, and possibly enable them to help others and earn something.

The principal of London's City Literary Institute, which runs a series of classes for its own members, a retired civil engineer aged seventy-four, who for the past four or five years had filled what would otherwise have been a very long life with companionship and interest by attending classes in philosophy, music, French, architecture and other subjects at the Institute. Dr. Heron stressed the danger of settling into the patterns of habit in middle age, so that people became unable to adapt themselves to change in their surroundings or in themselves. Everyone ought to be able to be said to remain young in the sense of being adaptable, open to new ideas and ready for fresh adventure.

Small cucumbers bring top prices

To get top prices for pick cucumbers at Ottawa overland should harvest them when one $7.84. Prices per pound are 4 to 14 cents in range from as high as 8 to 14 cents, states V. W. Nuttal, one of the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

The Canada Department of Agriculture vegetable crop specialist maintains that a ton of cucumbers in size range of 2 to 4 inches may be worth 10 times as much as a ton of cucumbers that are two inches in diameter.

In 1959 and 1960, small cucumbers depends not only on price but also on proportion of the various sized fruits. The latter depends on the frequency of picking. Usually they should be picked every two to four days.

It is important that the first fruits be picked when small to medium in size. The first picking may not be profitable.

But removing the fruits as the vines boosts later yields. Large cucumbers should not be left on the vine since they reduce yields.

Picking small cucumbers by hand is expensive and a mechanical picker is being tested in an attempt to reduce costs.

Bethany (PNS) — The United Church Women's Association had a busy session one May night at the home of Mrs. Milton Wright, with Mrs. Carl Porteous presiding.

Plans were completed for the Spring Tea, bazaar and cake sale. Members agreed to cater for a wedding reception to be held at the church on June 10th. Date of the annual garden party was set for June 28th, with committees appointed to look after arrangements for each.

Minutes and correspondence were read by Mrs. Thomas Jennings, which included a letter of thanks from Mrs. Ada Clark in hospital at Niagara Falls; a letter from Sophia Parkison, the Greek child adopted by the Manvers Parish, telling something of her home life and expressing gratitude for the help received by her family; and herself.

Mrs. Carl Porteous and Mrs. James Fraser were appointed stewards concerning people in the Bible.

Mrs. Frank Bigelow

The funeral service for Mrs. Frank Bigelow of R. R. 1, Fraserville was held from the United Church in Bethany on May 9, 1961, with the service in charge of Rev. G. E. Richardson, of Bethany, assisted by Rev. Stanley Snowdon of Millbrook. The choir sang "The Lord Is My Shepherd" accompanied by Mrs. Clarence Rowan at the organ.

Palbearers were Clarence Neale, Emory Smith, Morgan Bigelow, Donald Lower, Clarence Rowan and Carl Smith, all of Bethany.

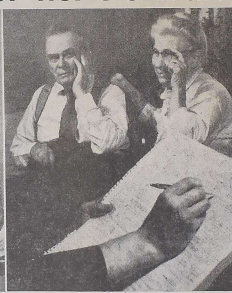

Burial was in Rosemont Memorial Gardens.

Mrs. Bigelow's sudden death in Civic Hospital, Peterborough on Sunday May 7th deeply shocked her many friends in this community, where she was held in high esteem. She had fallen at her farm home earlier in the week, fracturing her leg and was taken to hospital, later she suffered a coronary heart attack. Mrs. Bigelow aged 64 years was the former Lillian Westlake, born in Bethany, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Westlake and had lived all her life in the district except for a few years in Toronto. She was a member of the Bethany United Church and a past president of the Church's Women's Association.

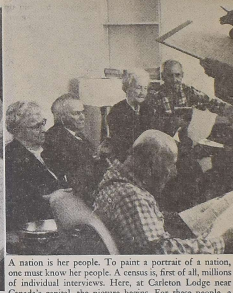

She is survived by her husband, Frank Bigelow; a daughter, Mrs. John Guthrie (Janes) of Peterborough; two sons, Dr. William Bigelow, of Atwood, and Allan at home; a brother, Mr. H. C. Wale, and a sister, Mrs. William Westlake both of Toronto.

Census Taking from Coast to Coast
Canada Sits for her Portrait

Age? 89. Employment? Retired. M. E. Bennett is one of 800,000 Canadians currently receiving the Old Age Pension. Changes in the age-structure of a population have wide-reaching effects. The census will show the size of Canada's young labour force, the number of retired.

Married? Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lewis have been married for 60 years. Married status has been preserved when applied to specific areas. The young man from Halifax should be the old advice and go west to Vancouver where single girls outnumber the men by three to two.

A nation is her people. To paint a portrait of a nation, one must know her people. A census is, first of all, millions of individual interviews. Here, at Carleton Lodge near Ottawa, the picture begins. For these people, a census is nothing new. They've seen seven or eight of Canada's nine since Confederation. Decisions based on census data will affect the lives of all Canadians for the next decade. These interviews, then, people, provide the essential working sketches for the portrait of a nation.

National Film Board of Canada Photos by Basil Wolff.

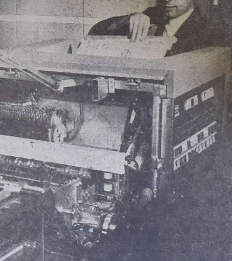

Employed last week? To Mrs. Catherine Cowan, 60 years a housewife, woman's work is never done. The ten questions on employment in the 1961 census will show which industries have expanded, which declined; hence, where likely areas of employment will exist in next decade.

Ethnic or cultural group? Thomas Mulligan has no trouble with this one. His, and another 18 million unworldly with the colour to the nation's portrait. Canada is a land of many nationalities and wide cultural variety. The census will assess these varying contributions.

Here at last the picture of a nation begins. The millions of tiny sketches are sorted, analyzed, and finally united into one vast mosaic of the Canadian people. This is the giant "brain" recently installed at the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Its electronic domain "reads" — only one in the world — can scan dozens for 600 persons each minute, converting them to data on paper, which the computer files in its memory. Publishing the results will begin late this year. By December, 1962, most of the nation's portrait will be finished.

Undertake Protein Study

Don W. Goddell, Minister of Agriculture, has announced that a milk composition study will be undertaken immediately by the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

The study, requested by the dairy industry, will concern itself initially with the protein content of Ontario milk from which solids-not-fat content may be easily established.

Making the announcement Mr. Goddell said that he considered the project was of the utmost importance to the dairy industry and that the findings of the study could result in a new method of pricing milk in Ontario and possibly open up new approaches to the breeding of dairy cattle.

Surveys made in other countries indicate that the protein content of milk is subject to wide variations and that it has been demonstrated that the protein content is largely a hereditary factor. It is felt that protein percentages can be improved by selective breeding.

Protein is not only essential nutritionally, but is important as well from the standpoint of manufactured products such as cheese and powdered milk.

The Minister said that on his recent visit to Europe he noted that much work had been done on milk protein in Holland and that a scheme of paying farmers for milk on a protein basis was already in operation in that country. Since 1938 an increasing number of cows in Holland are on a policy of official protein recording and testing.

The interest of Ontario dairymen in the new study may point the way to the adoption of a similar policy in Ontario.

Under the plan milk samples will be collected by personnel of the Record of Performance for Dairy Cattle Canada Department of Agriculture Testing and analysis will be carried out by the Department of Dairy and Animal Husbandry at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph.

Golden Anniversary celebrated by Blackstock couple

Blackstock (PNS)—Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Johnston of Blackstock were "At Home" to their many friends, relatives and neighbours on the occasion of their Golden Wedding Anniversary in the beautifully decorated Christian Education room of the United Church.

Among the numerous messages received were congratulations from the Honourable Dr. Herbert Bruce (a distant relative), Mr. Minister John Dienerbach, Leslie Fort, Premier of Ontario, John Varcoe, Provincial Secretary, Percy Vivian M.P. for Durham. Telegrams were received from a brother of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson, West Bank B.C., Dr. and Mrs. Allen Mathews, Keweenaw, P.C., and from Mrs. Howard Black of the New Mexico, owner of the court in "True Love" country, where Mr. and Mrs. Johnston spent two months in 1954.

The cohorts and hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Avery (Targa Johnston) Tillbury, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Johnston, Belleville, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Johnston, Bolesville, Manitoba. The couples oldest grandchild Donna Marie Avery was in charge of the golden guest book.

Pouring tea during the afternoon and evening were Mrs. Chas Smith, Mrs. Gen. Johnston, Mrs. T. Samuels, Mrs. Russell Montjoy, Mrs. Chas. Venning, and Mrs. C. Hill.

Nieces served the guests. The bride's table was centered with a three tiered anniversary cake beautifully decorated with golden leaves and bells and flanked on each side with a bouquet of yellow and white mums.

During the afternoon Mr. Earl Dorrell called the group to order and spoke of the fine qualities of character that have made the couple so highly respected through the years. Messrs. John Montjoy and Harry Johnston made the presentation of a silver rocker and an occasional chair. Two bouquets of 50 yellow mums and a sum of money. Mr. and Mrs. Johnston made fitting replies.

Previously when the family had had dinner at the home of Mr. Earl Dorrell the family presented their parents each with a wrist watch. Mr. Dorrell gave them two gold cups and saucers.

They received a number of individual gifts. Four of their seven grand children were present, Donna Marie and Carlye Avery, Linda and Pearl Johnston, Mr. Geo. Johnston the best man of 50 years ago was present. The bridesmaid was the late Annie Ferguson Dorrell.

Among friends present were Mr. and Mrs. John Rowland (the groom's sister) Milbrook, who celebrated their golden wedding in April of this year, the bride's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Millard Falls, Baden, Ont., nephews and nieces from Otawa, Bromie, St. Catharines, Galt, Toronto, Streetsville, Peterborough, Milton, Orono, Bethany and Velverton and surrounding territory.

Try this delicious onion bread with a good pot roast. Arrange biscuits from one package as refrigerator. Cut out overlapping one another on a lightly greased cookie sheet. Brush with spoon of melted butter or margarine and bake in a preheated 350-degree oven for eight to 10 minutes. Many who feel this way about it are, of course, sincere and devout people. And it is not our intention to challenge the various shades of Christianity through which they represent. We do ask them, however, to understand that the Catholic claim is not a matter of arrogant intolerance — but of the deepest religious conviction.

Nearly all Christians agree that there can be only one true Church. Yet there are hundreds of different denominations — some of them miles apart in what they teach — all claiming to be the true Church. Certainly all of them cannot be right — in fact, only ONE can. But which one? How do we identify it?

The Son of God made Himself recognizable to men by coming upon the earth with a body and voice of man. It was in His physical body that He died for our redemption. Having thus so carefully revealed Himself to the people of His own time, would He not make equally sure that future generations should also know Him?

Catholics believe that the Son of God, through the Church — in which He is able at all times to

"What Do You Mean—Only ONE True Church?"

Non-Catholics often resent the claim that the Catholic Church alone is the true Church of Christ. "You Catholics," some of them say, "have a lot of nerve. The Church is universal. Anybody can belong to it who accepts Christ as his personal Savior and models his life after Christ's teaching. We can be members of the true Church without being Catholic."

Those who came to God through Him? The Church is, therefore, not merely a body of people belonging in Christ — but the Body appointed by Christ Himself to continue His mission of redemption.

"He who hears you," the Savior said, "hears Me." For Catholics, this means that when the Church speaks it is Christ speaking. When the Church offers prayer and sacrifice and forgiveness of sins, it is Christ's prayer and sacrifice and forgiveness of sins. The Church, as Catholics see it, is Christ living in the world today!

Must the Church be so rigid and unyielding? Is the Church unchangeable? Can we raise the Church without raising Christ? Must we belong to the Catholic Church to be saved? The answers to these and many other important questions are available in a pamphlet which will send you without any obligation — which you can read in the privacy of your home. Write now! Edwin Davies

After putting up a brave fight for recovery, Edwin Davies, son of Mrs. Mary Davies, and the late Mr. Mos-who died here last week at the Royal Memorial Hospital, after a short illness.

Mr. Davies died at the hospital on May 18th, and after surgery, he did not seem to rally. He was born and raised in Haldimand. After he finished school he went to the office of the C.P.R., later going to Lindsay, where he was until he died of his passing.

His father, the late Mos Davies, passed away suddenly a few months ago at Sunnybrook Hospital.

Edwin Davies was a sportsman and had followed ball and hockey games.

Besides his mother, he leaves two brothers, Stanley and Alfred, and a host of relatives.

Flowers blanketed the room where the body rested.

The funeral service was held in St. George's Anglican Church, Lindsay, on May 27th. It was largely attended. Rev. John Taylor conducted the service.

Zesty Flavor

Frying chicken for a picnic? Be sure it has all the zesty flavor you like in foods for out-door eating. A seasoning is called chicken is fried to "cook" in the flavor. Use one-half teaspoon of barbecue for each chicken, stirring it into the melted fat or oil in the skillet before the fat is hot. Heat and fry the chicken as usual. — U.P.

ROUND OF CONFERENCES

President Kennedy has begun a round of conferences with European leaders. He flew to Paris today, and has gone into conference with President De Gaulle. He will meet Premier Khrushchev at Vienna on Monday. He will also confer with Prime Minister Macmillan at London before returning home. Upon arriving at Paris, Kennedy said, "our goals are western security and stability."

SECURITY PRECAUTIONS VERY STRICT

Security precautions are very strict, despite the obvious enthusiasm of the French for the visit. Hundreds of thousands of Parisians cheered as the Kennedys drove in from Orly Field—a reception every bit as enthusiastic as that given President Eisenhower a year ago. Mrs. Kennedy was a special target of cheers.

HEARING RECORD

The automobile death toll for the U.S. Memorial Day weekend is nearing a record. Figures still coming in show cars killed more persons than during any other Memorial Day period and the number appears likely to surpass the figure of 461 recorded over Labor Day in 1951. In the latest tally, 460 persons have died on U.S. highways since Friday evening.

SEVEN MORE IN JAIL

Seven more so-called "Freedom Riders" are in jail in Jackson, Mississippi. They met the same fate as previous riders who tried to integrate transportation facilities in Jackson. The group rode into the Illinois Central Station yesterday and were arrested immediately. They turned down 60-day suspended sentences and 200-dollar fines, choosing instead to go to jail.

WORLD-WIDE BOYCOTT

The President of Ghana has called for a worldwide trade boycott and concerted Afro-Asian action to force Portugal out of Angola. Kenema Xeruma said appeals must be made to the Portuguese people by, he put it, "every peaceful means" to end what he termed "colonialism and inhuman colonialism."

REPUBLIC OF SOUTH AFRICA BEINGS

It has a voting population of three-million whites and a non-voting population of 12-million suppressed non-whites. The inauguration of the new republic breaks a 355-year link with Britain.

EXPECTED TO AMEND PROVISIONS

ANOTHER GRAIN SALE

Canada is negotiating another grain sale to the Communist world. Agriculture Minister Avon Hamilton says discussions are underway with Polish government officials for purchase of an undisclosed amount of grain. Poland bought a quarter of a million tons of wheat 18 months ago under a three-year credit deal.

CLOSE LOOK

Attending the crime conference will be representatives of the F.B.I., the R.C.M.P., Ontario Provincial Police, New York State Police and Canadian and U.S. Customs and Revenue officials. The meeting was called by Toronto Police Commissioner Chairman C. O. Bick, after a New York State Judicial report revealed links between U.S. and Canadian crime.

Canada Thistle

Creeping or field thistle, as it is commonly referred to, has very wide distribution throughout Ontario's farm land, says John Curtis of the Seed Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

This pest, introduced from Europe by the pioneers, grows on a wide variety of soil and moisture conditions, although it is less common or absent in light, dry, sandy places, vacant places, waste lands, roadsides and cultivated fields. In the Weed Control Act for Ontario it is on the noxious list.

Canada thistle is a perennial, spreading by seeds and whitish underground root-stocks. It is readily distinguishable from other thistles by the combination of green stems without spiny wings and small, almost spineless heads. It is thence thistle with male and female flowers on separate stems. In some areas, the feeding of insect larvae on the immature seeds helps considerably to control the spread of this weed.

In old grass pasture fields and waste places, 10 to 24 ounces of 2, 4-D lys volatile ester acid in 5 to 20 gallons of water per acre applied in late spring will control thistle. In new seedling and in tall meadows high in alfalfa, 20 to 24 ounces of 2, 4-D acid in thistle may be controlled. At least 15 gallons of water per acre or grain not needed, as gives good control. For 6 to 8 ounces of 2, 4-D amine complete eradication, more acid in 10 to 20 gallons of water one treatment will probe water per acre, when the corn is necessary. Canada or grain is 6 to 8" high.

That it may not be generally known, but it's against the law to keep an abandoned law in captivity... Such is the word from Fish and Wildlife Supervisors K. H. Irwin and Lindsay. Writing in the current "Weekly Report" from the Lindsay Forest District, he states, quote:

"About the time of year we are often confronted by people seeking a permit to trap a 'poor abandoned cat' in captivity. Last weekend a well intentioned resident of the Minden area picked up a so-called deserted two-day old kitten in the bush while he was on a fishing trip. His application for a captivity permit was refused and the young animal was seized. Charged in the case being considered is 'Leaving an animal in the woods to 'Leave Any Young Animals Alone.' You might be interested to know that the mother is not too far away secure in the knowledge that she has concealed her offspring in a safe protected thicket."

Frost Takes Firm Stance For Religion in Schools

Ontario Premier Leslie Frost, who indicated last week that he would not support religion in the schools.

Speaking in Sudbury, Ontario, to the first convocation of the Laurentian University, he said: "I am not going to embrace the 'learning' which is the basis of the Roman Catholic Church. The United Church, the Anglican Church, and the Presbyterian Church, I do not embrace the art and the humanities, including religion."

"In these days," the premier added, "when there has been some discussion and, perhaps, some controversy over religion in the schools, I think this fact is of more than ordinary interest."

The premier said he welcomed recent student interest in science. But he added, "the question arises of what use is knowledge if we don't know how to use it rightly."

STOP!.... killing yourself

By Peter J. Steinhilber, M.D. F.A.C.P.

EYE STATISTICS have normal vision. There are 960,000 blind persons in the U.S. Also about two million with serious vision impairments. In fact, poor vision and blindness rank statistics will explain why it is so important to guard against losing your precious vision. Women have weaker eyes than men. In the 30-34 age group, 48 per cent of women have defective vision as compared to 42 per cent of men. In the 40-50 age group, 57 per cent of men compared with 69 per cent of women. Every other person in the U.S. wears either eyeglasses or contact lenses. The estimates are 77,000,000 and 6,000,000 respectively. Only 300,000 injuries, of course, are important factor. Every work ing day in our country there are at least 1,000 eye injuries. Safety programs are effective. For example, PATTERNS notes that "one large Ohio plant which once had 500-600 eye injuries a month now has none."

One person in about every 50 (in people over 40) may have undetected and unsuspected glaucoma. Many times in this column I have suggested that no physical examination is complete unless the doctor gives you a corneal tonometer test. (A simple procedure in which he measures your "eye-pressure.")

At present, the majority of such tests are given only by eye specialists, or by their nurses. I believe this procedure should also be used by every general practitioner, (medical specialist) and ophthalmologist who advise people to come in at least once a year

Spring in Canada: A Time of Discovery

Spring in Canada is a time of discovery - a time for investigation. How soft is a lamb? How easy to catch? Perhaps the lambs are wondering, too. Below, members of Admiral Drake's Rolla test their working gear before sailing off to explore a sunny new world.

Spring comes to Canada in a thousand different ways. A little girl watches spring unfold in the deep bowl of a tulip. A prairie rancher pauses on his way to the barns as bawling calves bring sound again to the land after a winter of silence and snow. A British Columbia teacher finds an idle student gazing out a school window at far-off mountains and, for a moment, grassy hills, too. An east-coast fisherman, skilfully unspooling a worn winter net, shades his eyes against the glare of warm sunlight sparkling on blue water. And deep in the sun-shafted silence of an Ontario wood an artist, trying to capture spring, leans at last triumphant with a delicate water-colour of two crooked, black ravens standing sturdy and alone at the edge of a hollow of melting, soft-shadowed snow.

National Film Board of Canada Photos

For many Canadians, spring comes in a visit to the farm. For Ottawa children, the farm means the Central Experimental Farm. There, youth sees youth awaken to spring. Even a worldly old sow permits herself to smile in pride over what is still, despite its universality each spring, quite an accomplishment.

A LOVELY YOU

By Mary Sue Miller

Year of the Great Profile

WANT A BETTER PROFILE? Just by the twist of a treat, it is possible to enhance the feminine profile in the most beautiful manner. However, depends on the individual contouring of one's own features.

For the better of a nose, the nose is a clean upright. But the temples and a simple exercise by increasing the area between it and the ear.

A long or prominent nose responds to quite opposite tactics. It appears shorter, shorter and smaller, when the hair is styled from the temple. This method is so simple as to be easily done at home and is a great help to the face.

The nose, therefore, acts as an effective counter. Whatever the nose — good, bad or indifferent — the side view can be perfected by the clever management of the hair. Hair simply around the face, the fall on the nose or high on the head, never directly opposite the nose, also regulate the appearance of the feature. A huge full of curls would completely dwarf a mobile nose. But should affect the face type — completely.

The Psychiatric Research Institute For Children - London In-Patient Operation

Matthew B. Dymond, MD, CM,

Ontario Minister of Health

Last week, we talked about the Outpatient functions of the Institute, and this week we will give a brief description of the Inpatient services and functions.

The Inpatient facilities have been designed to provide maximum flexibility in the demands of any and all cases. Single and double rooms only are available, and those are designed to be as comfortable as possible. There are adequate "rest" areas within the building with trained nursing staff available to provide for the care of children according to their individual needs.

Research is a most important part of the work of the Institute, and has a close relationship with the work of the Institute, and has a close relationship with the work of the Institute.
